Calgarian CoraMarie Clark - a.k.a. Toothena - travels the globe with the goal of providing children everywhere with a toothbrush, oral hygiene education and access to dental care.

Just this summer Clark - a former dental hygienist with a masters in business and a "love for children" - travelled to Kenya with 3,000 toothbrushes for Maasai children. Many of the kids had never even seen a toothbrush before.

Most of us take dental health for granted. Seems like a good opportunity to educate our children not just about how fortunate they are - but about how easy it is to make a difference for someone else half way across the world.

If you'd like to get involved, check out her website at www.toothfairykids.org

Alternatively, if you've found a family-friendly charity to support yourself, and you'd like to let Modern Family readers in on it, please click on comment button and let us know!
